ABOUT MAYOR STANTON
Since taking office in 2012, Mayor Greg Stanton has worked tirelessly to build a modern economy that works for every Phoenix family. By investing in innovation and the biosciences, lifting up local small business, and boosting trade with Mexico, Stanton is leading the way to create an innovation-based, export-driven economy built to last.

Stanton is committed to making our community a more welcoming and open place. Under his leadership, Phoenix became the first U.S. city to end chronic homelessness among veterans. Phoenix also earned national recognition as a leader on LGBTQ issues, and became the first Arizona city to earn a perfect score on the Human Rights Campaign's municipal equality index.

In 2015, Stanton won reelection and successfully led one of the most ambitious transportation initiatives in the country – a plan that is now working to triple Phoenix's light rail system, expand bus service and build 1,000 miles of new bike lanes over the next 35 years.
